"Books, these miraculous memories of high thoughts and golden moods; those magical shells, tremulous with the secrets of the ocean of life;... those honeycombs of dreams; those orchids of knowledge; those stillbeating hearts of noble dead;... prisms of beauty; urns stored with all the sweet of all summers of time; immortal nightingales that sing forever to the rose of life.

A black and white photograph of a hand holding a white envelope. The hand is positioned on the left side of the envelope, with the thumb and index finger visible. The envelope is tilted upwards and to the right. The background is dark and out of focus.

Foreword

LIFE, college life, forms indelible chapters in the unfolding plot of our four years' journey in Learning to Live and Living to Learn.

Memories, golden, of Precious hours of living with great minds in books,

Recreating hours in the fine arts,
Relaxing hours in building towers of strength and fortitude,

Priceless hours in forming friendships and sharing experiences,
Laborious hours in purposeful sacrificing for a worthy goal, Satisfying hours of realization of rewards for effort,

Gratifying hours for endless love and sacrifices on the part of those who are concerned---

.....Golden memories of all these, unfolded in the giant volume of our lives,
help us to make our philosophy of life
become more than just a memory.

It is better to mix and muddle if he comes one

Dedication

[The text in the open book is faint and mostly illegible. It appears to be a list or a collection of short pieces, possibly dedications or prayers, arranged in columns on both pages.]

Miss Angelika Reckendorf

It only takes a simple paint brush, a few black and gold colors, imagination,

Blended with Christian ideas, friendly co-operation, well-balanced personality, and a vast store-house of experiences to produce one of the greatest masterpieces of Tennessee State College.

To you, our beloved illustrator, we, the Senior Class, dedicate this the 1956 LINCOLN.

MISS ANGELIKA RECKENDORF

May this year's GILLEN BOOK OF MEMORIES, be an inspiration for further endeavors.

Walter J. Gale

President's Message

A Golden Book of Memories should provide innumerable pleasures of reverie and reminiscence. That is as it should be.

However, I charge you to concentrate on the future, while dwelling only fleetingly on the past. Too frequently man has stumbled on the path of progress while looking backward. Reflection on the past has a place in life when it is a sincere attempt to evaluate progress or to interpret the future; otherwise, however pleasant, it is time ill-spent.

Throughout the coming years you will spend moments of leisure with this Golden Book of Memories. May you enjoy the reminiscence. Then, returning quickly to reality, may you profit again and again from those experiences pictured here. Live, work, and play purposefully each day, so that your Golden Years will be satisfying and rewarding. Only then will you warrant the unlimited pleasures of dreams and wishes; only then can you afford the extravagances of complete absorption with your Golden Book of Memories.

Walter J. Gale
President
Pembroke State College

"There are books of which the back and covers are by far the best parts."

Chapter 1

Old Main

"Men do not understand books until they have had a certain amount of life, or at any rate no man understands a deep book, until he has seen and lived at least part of its contents."

"Books that you may carry to the fire and hold readily in your hand, are the most useful after all."

FAITH

by Mrs. Winnie Butler

Faith is a mine of wealth untold....
The evidence of things not seen,
More than the rarest gold of earth,
Or all the vanities of kings.
The intellect may go so far...
Reason, the path of logic pursue;
To trust in God excels by far
Halting faith and reason too.

INVITATION

By Mary Jane Locklear

When autumn is through painting gold on her leaves,
She throws down her
calling cards of brown...
The winter invites us to tables of white...
Where pixies are dining in pale moonlight.

AUTUMN

by Lucille Thompson

Autumn is shaking her tambourine--
Brown leaves are falling which once were green;
And soon our earth will dress in white...
With jewels that sparkle like bright starlight.

Poems appeared in the 1957-58 Edition of Anthology of American Poetry.

Oh for a book and a shady nook,
Either in door or out;
With the green leaves whispering overhead,
Or the straggling crickets about,
Where I may read all at my ease,
Both of the new and old;
For a jolly good book whereon to look,
Is better to me than gold.

A book may be a flower that blows;
A road to a far town;
A roof, a well, a tower;
A book may be a staff, a crook.

"It looks like the soul of the whole past time;
The articulate audible voice of the past,
When the body and material substance of
It has altogether vanished like a dream."

WILLIAM EARL TERRY

"That place that books contain
My books, the best companions, is to me
A glorious court, where hourly I converse
With the old sages and philosophers;
And sometimes, for variety, I confer
With kings and emperors, and weigh their counsels."

NELL FINCH WARBERSON

P.S. Elementary Education

Transfer student from Meredith College and East Carolina Teachers College.

"When I would know thee—my thought looks
Upon thy well-made choice of friends and books;
Then do I love thee, and behold the ends in Making thy friends books, and books thy friends."

Hail to P.S.C.!

The sweetest lives are those to duty wed,
Whose deeds, both great and small,
Are close-knit strands of an unbroken thread,
Where love enables all.
The world may sound no trumpet, ring no bells;
The book of life the shining record tells.

Hail To P. S. C.

Reba M. Lowry, 1954

Ira Pate Lowry, 1954.

Where Caro- Li- nés Loft-y Pine trees Pierce the South-ern blue,

Proud- Ly stands our Al- ma Ma- ter Cou- rd- geous, strong and true,

Black and gold float on for- eu- er, Sym- bol of Loy- al ty, Pem- broke State, our Al- ma Ma- ter, Hail to P. S. C.!

2. Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
Guardian of our youth
Ever lead thy children onward
Into light and truth;
Unborn youth will take our places
To praise thee endlessly,
Pembroke State, our Alma Mater,
Hail to P. S. C. !

3. 'Neath thy ever verdant pine trees
We rally to thy call,
Ever loyal sons and daughters-
Ambassadors, we all-
Bound by ties of love and service
Friendship and loyalty,
Pembroke State, our Alma Mater,
Hail to P. S. C. !

4. Raise the chorus, blend the voices,
Let the echoes ring
To our loving foster parent
Loudly praises sing;
Swell the chorus 'till it reaches
On through eternity
Pembroke State, our Alma Mater,
Hail to P. S. C. !

DEAN CLIFTON OXENDINE

After many years of faithful service as Dean of Students at P. S. C., Dean Clifton Oxendine hands over his title to Dr. Herbert G. Oxendine.

Dedication Of 1957 Indianhead

Dr. H. H. Todd is presented the first copy of the 1957 Indianhead by Norma Jean Thompson, Editor, and Glenn Jacobs, Business Manager.

Who's Who

Five seniors were chosen by the U. S. C. Student Council and faculty members and by the editors of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES to appear in the 1957-58 edition of WHO'S WHO. This annual publication lists student leaders in educational institutions throughout the nation. Criteria for selection of a student are: excellence in scholarship, leadership, participation in extracurricular and academic activities, citizenship, service to the school, and promise of future usefulness to business and society.

And, long the way back with an immense pile of books and papers, which were then taken back to the room again, and the night of the night, and the night of the night will be long and still.
